MazeHunt

Like Harry Potter and the Goblet Of Fire, players are placed into a maze of your own creation. Players have to navigate through twists and turns in hopes to reach the center of the maze first. Whoever reaches the middle first is awarded the MazeHunter sword, and has to hunt down the other players in order to win. Players can choose to run and hide, or team up and try to kill the sword holder.

Gameplay

Arena

- You create your own treacherous maze with a beacon in the middle which players will use as their guide. The possibilities are endless! We used the MazeRunner map as our development arena for the plugin

Playing

- When a player joins the game, they are sent to their starting point in the maze. You define the number and position of starting points.
- As long as 2 players join the game before the countdown hits zero, the game will begin! If not enough players join the arena before the countdown finishes, the players will be teleported out of the arena back to the lobby.
- Players have to navigate through twists and turns in hopes to reach the center of the maze first! Whoever reaches the maze first receives the Maze Hunter sword, and has to hunt down and kill all the other players in hopes of winning the game. All other players are awarded a lesser sword and one invisibility potion. Players can choose to run and hide, or become invisible for a short amount of time in order to kill the hunter!
- If the hunter is able to kill all of the other players, they win! If one of the other players kills the hunter, all of the other players win!

I really love the idea of the minigame and will be definitely be adding it to my minigame server. [Idea] Scoreboard for players to see their stats shop for players to buy(Perks, Different color armor, Banners they can wear). Something for players to come back and play more of it.

Also maybe a spectator mode for players that have been killed but their chat is muted so they wont cheat.
